

The Secret Gardens Wall

Hi everyone, Cooly Bug here. I need your help.

I have cleared a wall in the Arty Farty Studio and I want to fill it with your amazing drawings.

You know that I love really cool stuff. So your pictures might have lots of bright colours. Or they might be scary or spooky. Or maybe just silly. I love silly things too. I can't wait to see what you come up with.

I am going to call this wall 'The Secret Gardens'. Billie will explain more. Good luck!

All about the Secret Gardens

When I was flying over Rumbledom I saw some hills at the edge of the Magic Meadow. Borby said that these were called The Rumble Domes.

They are very important because they protect the Secret Gardens. A team of Buglets patrols the windy paths among the Domes to make sure no Baddies get into the Gardens.

Borby said that there are special flowers and fungi in the Secret Gardens. The Belly Bugs use them to make Supergoo.

Cooly thinks drawings of the Secret Gardens would make a wonderful display. So I have thought of some ideas for you to try. Or you can use your own.

The Secret Gardens Art Display

My Drawing Ideas

Very bright flowers and butterflies

Monster fungi with spots that look like eyes

Plants made from crazy shapes

Huge bees or insects drinking nectar from plants

Or think of your own

Choose one of these or a combination.

Have fun and be cool!
